TODAY'S MUSIC AND LIGHTS SHOW BY ENEL CHILE SALUTES THE "HEROES WITHOUT CAPES" OF THE CORONAVIRUS EMERGENCY

- The last cultural show on the Enel Chile corporate building will be held today from 7:15 to 7:35 pm.

Santiago, May 14, 2020 – Today concludes the music and lights show projected on the Enel Chile corporate building, which -for nearly two weeks- has delivered a message of hope and strength for all Chileans and, especially, those who work day in and day out to tackle the COVID-19 emergency.

The last cultural show on the Enel Chile corporate building will be held today from 7:15 to 7:35 pm.

The show includes a mapping of the Chilean flag along with messages of support, and concludes with the projection of the Music for Hope concert aria recently given by the Italian tenor Andrea Bocelli at the Milan Cathedral.

The mapping of lights includes images of Chilean landscapes and cities that highlight the country's diversity. Finally, the activity concludes with a round of applause by Enel workers to show their appreciation of the "heroes without capes."
