Santiago, Sunday, April 12, 2026 – A lively weekend of sports, energy, and teamwork was enjoyed at the latest edition of the Enel Cup. This event united boys and girls from various communes in the Metropolitan Region to participate in soccer and to embrace the values it fosters.

In the 2026 edition, 36 men's and women's teams from 18 communes within Enel Distribution's concession area participated in 50 matches, featuring a group stage on Saturday followed by knockout rounds—quarterfinals, semifinals, and finals—on Sunday.

After intense matches and continuous support from their families and friends, Independencia in the men's category and Santiago in the women's category were crowned champions of this new edition. Both excelled in performance, commitment, and sportsmanship throughout the competition.

As usual, the tournament showcased its historic ambassador, Iván Zamorano, former national team player and Chile's top scorer. He joined the participants and emphasized that sports are a vital tool for the personal and collective growth of boys and girls.

Consistent with the company's dedication to sustainability and the circular economy, all teams donned uniforms crafted from 100% recycled PET, demonstrating innovation and environmental consciousness at every sporting event.

The winning teams in each category received special recognition: each player, along with their head and assistant coaches, received a gift card for use at the 100% Fútbol store.

Beyond just delivering results, the Enel Cup fosters gathering spaces that encourage sports, healthy living, and core values like respect, discipline, and teamwork.

The Enel Cup 2026 reaffirms the company's commitment to a just and inclusive energy transition by integrating support for youth sports with initiatives that promote a cleaner, more responsible future and opportunities for new generations.
